BULGARS DRIVE FRENCH IN SANGUINARY BATTLE.

Latter Still Holding Important Bridgehead Which is Commanded from Surrounding Hills—Modern Appliances of War Give Invaders Advantage Over the Balkan Army—Trenches of Little Use.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

FRENCH HEADQUARTERS (Kavadar, Serbia), Nov. 21 (via courier to Saloniki, Greece), Nov. 22 (via Paris), Nov. 23.—A sanguinary battle between French and Bulgarians in the gorge of Rajac River, a tributary of the Cerna, Southeastern Serbia, has resulted thus far in the retirement of the French from a point north of Drenovo to the right bank of the Cerna. The French, however, are still holding the Rajac gorge, and the important bridgehead at Bofharst, controlling the heights overlooking the gorge. The Associated Press correspondent today visited the French post west of the Rajac bridgehead, which is defended by a strong natural position in the granite-walled gorge. The gorge, however, is exposed to artillery fire from the surrounding heights. Through it runs a narrow, rapid stream, held by infantry.

Half an hour later the correspondent, with a party of French officers, watched the scene of the battle to collect the French wounded. The Bulgarians are bringing up heavy forces from the neighborhood of Priep. The French plan of campaign seems to have been to occupy as quickly as possible the maximum number of positions of natural strength and to take care of their communications as effectively as could be done with the forces available. When one position thus held is made the object of serious attack the French withdraw, as the complete lack of effective means of transportation renders the rapid shifting of troops from one position to another impracticable.

FRENCH WOMAN A GERMAN SPY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Times publishes the following from Geneva: "A military court here has sentenced Marie Therese Le Philonnet, a native of Cahors, France, to a month's imprisonment and pay a fine of $200 on the ground that she is a German spy. She told the court she had been arrested at Lille by Germans and taken to Antwerp, where she was compelled, under threats that her family would be massacred if she refused to practice espionage. The prisoner testified that a school for spies, with numerous pupils, had been established at Antwerp. She was sent, she said, to Northern France. At Cherbourg she made the acquaintance of officers. She also visited England and transmitted by mail information concerning movements of the French and Belgian armies and the location of French submarine stations."

CAPT. BOY-ED HANDLED THOUSANDS FROM BERLIN.

Witnesses Describe Sending of Relief Ships to Kaiser's Men-of-War.

Defense Admits that Two Million Dollars was Spent in this Manner—False Manifestos Employed to Facilitate Operations—Large Amounts of the Money Found a Way to the Pacific Coast.

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—In the alleged conspiracy of several Hamburg-American steamship line officials to deceive and defraud the United States by sending neutral relief ships with coal and other supplies to German men of war in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans at the beginning of the European war, Capt. K. Boy-Ed, German naval attaché with headquarters at the German Embassy in Washington, played a leading role, according to witnesses who testified in the Federal court here today. One of these witnesses swore that Capt. Boy-Ed personally directed the expenditure of approximately $750,000 which, unsolicited and unexpected, had been deposited to the witness's credit in a New York banking house early in September, 1914. Of this money, the witness testified, $250,000 was telegraphed to the Nevada National Bank at San Francisco in one lump sum; $125,000 was paid in several amounts to the North German Lloyd steamship line here; about $75,000 to the Hamburg-American line, who are charged with conspiracy in having directed the loading and dispatching of sixteen vessels to the relief of a half dozen or more German warships isolated from supplies in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The testimony, which opened the government's case, followed a short address to the jury by Roger B. Wood, assistant United States District Attorney, in which Mr. Wood said that the government would show that the defendants had used the money in violation of the laws and treaties of the United States as contemptuously as if those laws and treaties had been mere scraps of paper.

OFFER OF RAND.

William Rand, counsel for the defendants, offered to concede certain charges of the government involving the government in trying so hard to prove. Why, we are willing to go much farther than that—we will admit that $2,000,000 of German money was spent in chartering and supplying vessels for relief of German warships. "And how much more?" asked Mr. Wood. "That is all I know of," was the reply. "But, admitting the facts, we do not admit the intent to deceive or defraud, as charged in the indictment."

KULENKAMPFF'S STORY.

Kulenkampff's story on the witness stand was that he had been summoned by telegraph to Hamburg, American line offices on the afternoon of August 5, 1914, and there had met Dr. Buehn, John H. Ganz, now dead, Kottler and Hachmeister. They had told him that they wanted him to clear two American steamers, the Lorenzo and the Berwind, loaded with coal, with all possible speed—the

REDMOND SAYS GERMANS BEATEN ON WEST FRONT.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—"So far as the western front is concerned, Germany is beaten," said John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, just returned from a visit to the army in France, addressing a recruiting meeting today.

"Every day, every hour, she is getting weaker. For every shell she throws at us, we throw five. There are no pessimists among our fighting men there. From the commander-in-chief down, through all the ranks of the army, there is a feeling of absolute confidence as to the results of the war."

Mr. Redmond visited the Belgian lines and saw King Albert.

After the War What? The Question Asked and Answered by Harry Carr

NEW ERA IS FORECAST FOR THIS BUSY WORLD.

Maybe Future Historians will Date Events from the Year of Strife.

"Our Lives will Never be the Same Again," Muses a Teutonic Soldier—Thinking Men are Reported to be in Agreement with Him that All the Old Tablets of Values Have been Smashed.

BY HARRY CARR.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 23.—"One of these days," I said to a German officer in the trenches at Warsaw, "you will go back home to your wife and children and forget that there has been a war."

He shook his head. "It may be spared to go back to my wife and children; but everything will be changed. Our lives will never be the same again."

"Whose lives?" I asked.

"Yours—mine—everybody's." The year that ends this struggle will be the year one. Nothing that was true before will be true then. Industry, art, philosophy, politics, finance—everything will be made over again.

Through the war, Europe is of one mind with this Teutonic soldier. Two war-torn nations are crying for peace; but even as they cry, they look at the peace to come with a shudder. It is no use for any one to dodge the issue; there is every possibility that this will be followed by a devastating peace that will be as terrible as war. Great good may come out of it all, but the smelting process will be a hard one.

We can regard the following as distinctly probable conditions of the period following the war. Immediately after the declaration of peace, there will be about eighteen months of unexampled prosperity owing to the resumption of post-war trade.

FIVE PROPOSITIONS.

Then this:

(1.) All the great nations of the world will be bankrupt. The great great-grandchildren of children yet to be born will find themselves piling up the bills that are piling up. Future generations are literally being sold into slavery every day of this war.

(2.) Five or six million women will be without men to support or care for them. They must either accept pauperism or plunge into fields of commercial life, heretofore held by men. Conversely, millions of other women whose men folk were not killed will be called upon to go back to the kitchen after having been with the stern of business life as managers of commercial institutions during the period of the war.

(3.) Several millions of young men, after their life in the trenches, will be found unfit for the monotonous industrial life of clerks and salesmen.

(4.) Labor and money will be so scarce as to demand sweeping and revolutionary adjustment.

(5.) Sexual abnormalities and nervous diseases will be rampant. The world will be lucky if it does not find itself populated by neurasthenics.

SERIALITY.

Let us take up these propositions in the order in which they are stated. Recently, Saxton, I had a long talk with one of the merchant princes of Leipzig concerning the conditions that must follow the war. "We Germans realize," he said, "that unless this war ends with an enormous indemnity paid to Germany by the allies, we must face the certainty of paying staggering taxes all our lives—probably a fourth or a third of our total income every year. This dreadful legacy will probably be handed down to the next generation. If we are to get this indemnity, the end of the war must come very soon. Otherwise no nation will be able to pay us. There is a point beyond which it will not be good judgment to exact indemnity of a defeated nation. After the war, we must have customers and customers without money are no use to us. Of course, there is the possibility that we may be defeated. Conditions would then be too dreadful to even think about. If such a disaster comes, we can only hope that God will give us the strength to bear our burden."

"But at the best, conditions all over the world will be very bad. Even America will not escape. The extent of the disastrous conditions depends on how great a deal is made of the war. If all the nations, owing to a drawn victory, have to begin at once and build up huge armaments for another war, the strain will be almost intolerable."

"In any case, the effort of the different nations to restore their prosperity will result in a fierce struggle for the overseas markets."

"Germany's chances of success in this race will depend largely upon whether or not the war is so long that America or some other country is forced by necessity to discover the secret of making dyes. As long as Germany retains the secret of making dyes, she has a strong weapon to induce other nations to trade with her."

I found this opinion was general in Germany. One of the great dye manufacturers of Frankfurt told me he thought if the war lasted two years and a half, the German dye monopoly would be in danger. Until that time it is safe to require a long and patient experiment to discover dyes.

In England the seriousness of the period after the war is understood thoroughly. In financial circles in London, there is talk of forming a great financial league between France, America, England, Italy and Russia. This is in the nature of a desperate idea of banking associations. As the banks of a city ease the financial strain of any one threatened bank, so it is proposed to distribute the same sure between nations after the war. There is even talk of an international coinage. The English feel that, whatever the outcome of the war, they will have captured much of the German overseas trade on account of the disappearance of German commerce during the war period. The Germans, on the other hand, point out that the British have gone home from the colonies to fight. But they have not allowed the Germans to go home. Wherefore, throughout South America and other distant market places, the German commercial machinery remains almost intact.

The British blockade has forced the German merchants to remain "on the job." When peace comes the Germans will be ready to start the machinery again.

ENGLAND'S LOT.

England, when the war closes, will be face to face, like other nations, with the choice between repudiation of a unshed-of taxation. Perhaps of all countries, England suffers the most by a heavy income tax, for the reason that so many of her people are not earning money, but are living on the proceeds of money invested in shares. Among other results of the war, trade will lose its disreputable position in England. Many shareholders of the leisure class will have to go to work.

One of the handicaps of the British trader who came into competition with the German was that the English banks did not support him as the German banks did the German overseas trader. In many cases, German banks financed German traders; then discounted the paper in London so that, in the end, the London banks refused support to their own business men and financed the Germans. Steps have already been taken to give more sympathetic support to small English traders. The government is encouraging them to go into Egypt and other markets, formerly almost monopolized by Germans. There is a great prospect, after the war, of a strong pre-war tariff between England and all her colonies.

FEMINIZATION.

After the war, Europe faces a prospect of feminization. In England, women are almost certain to get the ballot. In Germany, women will never again take up their old position of humble and adoring housewives. I have seen German women, never before out of their kitchens, acting as managers of big commercial institutions in the absence of their husbands. They have been working as section hands on a railroad, as mechanics working side by side at the lathe with the men in locomotive factories. I have seen them shoveling coal at railroad yards and acting as longshoremen at steamer docks. It is no use to say they are going to put on their kitchen aprons again and go back to just what they were before. I don't know all that the change will involve, but there will be a change.

Only we should remember this: In Germany, the woman is made to feel that her function in life is a direct responsibility to the state. The woman in other countries bears children as a matter of personal satisfaction and education. In Germany, the woman always feels that she is providing soldiers for the empire. Her domestic function becomes more exalted and important. She is the more content in her household duties, because she feels that she has a job upon which the very existence of the empire depends. Nevertheless, it will be hard for her to go back.

There still remains the enormous social and vital problem of world that will be filled with unmarried women. There is, indeed, in the minds of many thinkers, a question as to whether the world is entering a distinctly feminine era; a question if, in the far future, women will not carry on all the industry while men occupy the position of the male—source of amusement and sexual satisfaction for women in their lighter hours.

ORIGIN OF THE TRAMP.

The American Civil War made the tramp. Men who had lived four years of excitement and adventure in the open air could not endure the dull business life. The same conditions will follow this war. Millions of young men have left their old jobs forever. With the soldier in the Kipling poem, they will say, "Me that have been what I been, me that have seen what I seen."

War not only breeds restlessness; it breeds irresponsibility. These boys who were in the trenches have come back to tell when to get up, when to go to bed, what to eat, what to wear, when to bathe. When their clothes are worn out, they get new ones. When they are hungry, they are fed. Soldiers are usually unfitted for civilian occupations for this reason.

The result of this unwillingness of Willie Smith to go back to the ribbon counter after two years in the trenches will cause a rush for the colonies like the one which has never before. Incidentally, it may be remarked, that contact with the wide-awake volunteers from Canada and Australia will be the cause of a great quickening of English commercial life.

NO MORE SIDE-STEPPING.

For many years, the world has been side-stepping an adjustment and settlement with Socialism and union labor. Now it must come; there must be a show-down. It has already come to some extent in England, where the unions have prevented conscription. Germany has presented to the world a wonderful and inspiring spectacle of unity. But Germany has been winning; has not been afflicted with heavy taxation and her stand has been made along the lines of military science, which is an exact science. Nations can face death with equality; but not taxes. When it comes to the time when she must pick up the shattered pieces of her industrial life, the problem of Socialism will be heard in the reconstruction. In Germany there is a great commercial league for the suppression of Socialism. The leaders of this league state that the Socialist movement has split into two roads since the outbreak of the war. One wing the Socialists sees in the broad cards and in the food regulation a great advance toward the ideal socialist state. Their idea is to quietly compel the government to continue the price regulations after the war and thus quietly stake down their claims. The other branch of Socialism sees in the day the British have gone home from the colonies to fight. But they have not allowed the Germans to go home. Wherefore, throughout South America and other distant market places, the German commercial machinery remains almost intact.

Table Knife Is Removed from the Stomach of a Chicago Woman.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The table knife which Mrs. Elizabeth Hochberger finally persuaded surgeons she had swallowed while in a delirium due to illness eight months ago, was taken from her stomach today by an operation at the West Side Hospital. The knife was corroded and saw-edged from the action of the stomach acids and physicians said that nature had made heroic efforts to digest the implement. The woman rallied well from the operation.

Pulling for the Allies at Athens.

Denys Cochlin.

The arrival of Denys Cochlin, the French Cabinet Minister, in Athens on a special mission, gave rise to an enthusiastic demonstration of sympathy for France. The Greek Premier and the Mayor of Athens with other high officials greeted him at the railway station as he arrived in the city. The reception given the French Minister was received with great enthusiasm in both Paris and London.

Open Offer of Peace.

yesterday on board a Greek cruiser for Athens.

From a person who is in a position to be fully informed on the situation, the Associated Press correspondent learns that King Constantine assured Earl Kitchener, the British Secretary of War, that he had never considered dismissing or internment allied troops who might take refuge on Greek soil, though number of Austrians, including several officers, are now interned in Greece.

Concerning the friction that has arisen between Greece and Great Britain and the "coercive measures" which the British insist in no sense constitute a blockade, it was stated that the King regards this situation the result of a misunderstanding and easily remediable.

Greece is anxious to assure the Entente allies that her only purpose of maintaining troops in Macedonia is the legitimate necessity of self-protection, especially in the event that the allies decide to abandon their Balkan expedition, leaving Greek Macedonia at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarians with their army already in the field.

As the statements of the French and British respecting a continuation of the Balkan campaign leave Greece in doubt on this point, it was said there was no present possibility either of the demobilization or withdrawal of the Greek troops from Saloniki. But the moment the allied forces operating in this field assume proportions sufficient to guarantee a serious Greek campaign, the Greek army rendering Greece's own defense in Macedonia superfluous, the King will not refuse to consider demobilization or least the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Saloniki if their presence is regarded as embarrassing to the Balkan campaign. It is likely that a solution of the Greco-British differences will be reached along these lines, it was said.

THE LONDON REVIEW.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

LONDON, Nov. 23, 10 p.m.—Instead of declaring a general blockade of the Greek ports, the allies have, according to a statement issued by the British Foreign Office today, withdrawn or threatened to withdraw the special privileges which Greek commerce has enjoyed since the outbreak of the war.

What these special privileges are is not specifically stated, but as an example Greece has been allowed to draw her supplies of coal from Welsh collieries. To do this Greek merchants require special permits as the export of coal from the British Isles is allowed only under a special license. There are many other commodities the export of which is permitted only to certain countries. Invariably when orders have been issued against the export of such commodities, Greece has been among the countries excepted. Now unless she concedes the demands made by the allies for assurances for the safety of their troops in the Balkans, Greece will be struck off the list of countries which have these privileges.

While this less vigorous attitude on the part of the allied governments has caused some dissatisfaction in quarters where strong measures are advocated, it has eased the situation and the belief now prevails that Greece, having been impressed by Lord Kitchener's visit and the threat to her commerce, will concede the demands.

Of the fighting in the Balkans, the reports are more confusing than ever. The Germans still claim progress for the Austro-German and Bulgarian troops and recount the capture of thousands of prisoners and many guns from the Serbians. But from the towns mentioned their advance appears very slow. It may be, as reported from Italian sources, that the German accounts still claim progress for the Austro-German and Bulgarian troops and recount the capture of thousands of prisoners and

WARBURG FOR RESERVE PLAN

Superiority Shown in Year Test, He Declares.

Proposes Change in System Fears Commercialism.

Trains from Comment upon Half a Billion Loan.

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Nov. 23.—A test of the Federal Reserve system has shown its superiority over the central bank plan, according to Paul M. Warburg of the Federal Reserve Board, who spoke here at a dinner given by the Charlotte.

Some of my friends," said Warburg, "have stated that they were free today to choose for the country between one central bank system constructed upon the reserve principle, I should choose the latter. The Federal Reserve system, properly developed to its full efficiency, will give the country the advantages of a central bank, while at the same time it will insure higher efficiency and stability, would in our country be a source of danger and attack." Warburg said a year had elapsed since the system could do but what he believed that they should be doing is and not attempt to have the banks become mere commercial institutions. He said he must be from comment on the American $500,000,000 loan, but that the Federal Reserve system "could not have been a loan even to consider a loan of this magnitude."

He greatest danger that can be to the system," Dr. Warburg said, "is the pressure of which would want to see the system used for their own individual gain. The system must show its value to the country, not by what it does for the individual, but by what it does for the entire nation."

The British Secretary for War, in conversation with Greek officials on his recent visit to Athens, is reported to have declared that England would have by next March four million soldiers under arms and would be in a position to arm and provision six million Russians and that consequently it would show great stupidity to think the war would end otherwise than in complete defeat for Germany.

WOMEN WORK FOR PEACE.
The German government is said to take the position that to agree to pay an indemnity would be an admission of wrongdoing, and that while in a humanitarian sense it deeply regrets the loss of any American lives, the Lusitania was torpedoed in reprisal for the establishment of the British blockade order which the United States itself holds to be illegal.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

For Ohio State Alumni.

Simultaneously with similar gatherings in many other cities, local alumni of the Ohio State University will banquet at Christopher's, No. 741 South Broadway, Friday evening. University President returns.

Dr. George F. Howard, president of the University of Southern California, will return today from New York City, where he had been attending the University Senate of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Herbert J. Goudge will be speaker of the day, with "Divine Rights of Man" as his subject, today in the luncheon of the Jewish Electrical League at Christopher's, No. 741 South Broadway, Friday evening. More will be chairman of the day.

To Hunt Bright Side.

"Count Your Blessings, Forget Your Failures," will be the slogan of an unusual service this evening by members of the Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church, Prospect and Hastings avenues. Rev. Clyde Sheldon Shepard will conduct the service.

To Debate San Diego.

The Los Angeles High School will meet the San Diego High School in debate this evening in the southern city on the question: "Resolved, that the United States should increase the standing army to 150,000 men." Zion Myers and Andrew Lockton leave today for the south to uphold the negative side of the discussion. Coach Perry will accompany the team, as will a number of students.

On the Final Lap.

A call for a meeting of the San Diego Exposition Committee in the parlors of the Alexandria at 3 o'clock this afternoon to make plans for winding up the campaign was issued yesterday by Chairman Vernon Goodwin. With less than $10,000 of the $150,000 guarantee fund remaining to be raised, it is hoped to bring the campaign to a close immediately.

Mission Study Lecture.

Rev. L. A. Gould will deliver a mission study lecture on "Christianity's Mighty Influence in India," in Berean Hall, Temple Auditorium, tonight at 7:15 o'clock. This will occupy the half-hour before the regular prayer meeting of the Temple Baptist Church.

During the address a young lady will appear in the costume of a Zenana woman, bedecked with jewels.

Postoffice to Close.

The main postoffice and all postoffice stations throughout the city will be closed on Thanksgiving Day. There will be no deliveries by carrier. Collection from street letter boxes will be on the basis of Sunday collections. Only perishable parcel post matter and special delivery mail will be delivered. The general delivery, parcel post, registry and money order divisions will be closed all day.

Meeting of Poultry Men.

Returning delegates from the national convention of the American Poultry Association in San Francisco will be in this city Friday and will attend a meeting in the Times assembly-rooms that evening. The latter will be held under the auspices of the local Poultry Breeders' Association and will be made notable by the presence of forty of the leading poultry experts of the country. There will be several addresses.

To Form Camp.

A meeting preliminary to the organization of a new camp of Sons of Veterans, to be known as the Stanton Camp, will be held Friday evening in the Times assembly-rooms. The installation will be in about a fortnight. Sons or grandsons of Civil War Union veterans who wish to join the camp should attend the meeting Friday. William H. Salada of Stanton Post, G.A.R., has been detailed to assist in organization work.

Diamonds Recovered.

A supposed jewel robbery faded in to nothing yesterday when J. N. Litchford, president of the California Sewer Company, and host to Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, tourists from St. Augustine, Fla., found $3000 worth of diamonds under the cover of a typewriter in the luggage of his guests at his home, No. 159 West Thirty-fifth place. The gems were thought to have been stolen while the Martins were staying in apartments in Berkeley.

Dead by Own Hand.

The coroner decided yesterday that "Mr. Brown," an old man who for several weeks had been seen in and around Burbank, died of strychnine self-administered. "Mr. Brown's" body was found in a cove near the railroad track at Burbank Monday afternoon, and beside it lay an empty phial containing traces of strychnine. There were no identifying marks on his clothing or papers or money in his pockets. The body is at the coroner, Litchford & Fry morgue at Burbank.

Same in Name Only.

The E. H. Breidenbach mentioned as one of the defendants in the action brought by Mrs. Teresa Wurtzbaugh in the United States District Court to recover $100,000 damages on account of an alleged conspiracy having for its object the bringing of the Smith-Roth-Under Company of this city. The defendant Breidenbach is a citizen of Owensboro, Ky. The remarkable similarity of names has been a source of considerable mortification to the well-known Los Angeles business man, who is in no way connected with the case.

READY FOR PEACE TO COME.
Paramount Issue, Says Secretary Trefz.

Nonpartisan Tariff and Merchant Marine.

End Means Prosperity for Pacific Coast.

Herbert E. White, real estate man, was released yesterday afternoon from the City Jail, where he has been held nearly a week on suspicion of complicity in the murder and robbery of Charles E. Pendell in June, 1913. Three hours after the release Mrs. Alice Baldwin Hammill, the woman who accused White of the crime, tried to end her life by drinking poison in a room in the Stowell Hotel.

Mrs. Hammill's act followed a declaration by the grand jury and the city police that the woman's story connecting White with the murder was unfounded. The officers said last night the last chapter in the investigation of White's actions just before and after the Pendell murder is closed.

Mrs. Hammill's attempt to take her life was discovered late yesterday afternoon by a chambermaid, who heard her groaning. She was found in the hotel office, and the police were called. Detectives Winn and Beaumont rushed

"Instead," he continued, "the chamber urges the subvention of merchant ships in such a way as to put our boats on an operating equality with those of foreign nations. As is well-known, it costs 24 per cent. more to build a ship at Newport News, or at any other place in this country than in Scotland, and 19 per cent. more to operate it across the Atlantic under the American flag.

"Whether this subvention comes through a change in our shipping laws or other means, it is most desirable that we do something and that at once. Why, there are men on the docks of New York at this moment

NO MAIDEN NAME NOW.

Divorcee Judge Announces that Way of Divorce will be Less Easy.

Divorcees who want their maiden names restored at the conclusion of their suits will be denied that privilege in the future. This pronouncement was made by Judge Monroe yesterday after granting Mrs. Gladys Bones, an attractive violinist, a decree from Clarence E. Bones. Her attorney, E. R. Wilson, asked the court to permit her to resume her former name, Gladys Barber.

Judge Monroe said he knows no law that requires him to order the change of name. Hereafter, he declared, women who obtain divorces must keep the name they acquire at marriage.

There is a method, however, which is the usual one of filing a petition asking for the change and giving the reasons. This petition cannot be filed until the decree of divorce has been granted and of necessity is a separate proceeding.

to the hotel and found Mrs. Hammill unconscious on her bed. A cloth soaked with chloroform was over her mouth and nose.

At the Receiving Hospital, where the woman's life was saved by Police Surgeon Hiller, a note was discovered pinned to her dress. It was addressed

SWING AX OVER BARGAIN FAKES.

Police may Close Out Some "Closing-out Sales."

City Prosecutor to Act on Tip from M. & M.

Several Downtown Stores to Face Prosecution.

One of the most vigorous campaigns ever waged in Los Angeles against fake advertising and fake sales will be carried on by City Prosecutor Williams, following a report from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association on a number of stores in Los Angeles that have been violating the law.

The "forced to the wall," "closing out," "sacrifice" and kindred affairs will have to go. None but bona fide sales will be tolerated in future, said Mr. Williams last night.

Simultaneous with an investigation carried on by the M. & M., the City Prosecutor's investigators have gathered evidence against certain stores and cheap merchants who conduct sales under false advertising. Some of them have been warned to alter their advertising on pain of arrest, and have conformed to the law. Others have refused to do so.

The Brown brothers, against false advertisements, passed at the last session of the Legislature, will be invoked against the merchants who have openly and flagrantly violated it.

Legitimate merchants in Los Angeles have complained of the condition and have pointed to the unsightly signs that mark the storefronts of buildings to lure the gullible public to fake sales.

City Prosecutor Williams has gathered evidence against two clothing stores on Main street, a shoe house on Broadway, several auction places on several houses on Spring street. Vigorous treatment will be given those found outside the law, he says.

A complaint made yesterday to the City Prosecutor by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association contains the following:

"A considerable number of merchants have complained to our association and called our attention to the fact that a company on South Broadway, in several months displayed signs in front of its place of business and advertised in the columns of the newspapers announcing that it would permanently retire from active business in this city at a certain specified time. In view of those announcements the company has been selling its stock of goods, but has extended the date of the closing of its business at dif-

MERCY FOR THE TURKEY.

Positive Bird Must Die Quickly, Says Prosecutor; Two Arrests Result.

Thanksgiving turkeys in this city are to have one consolation. They are to die quickly.

Thanksgiving turkeys in this city are to have one consolation. They are to die quickly. City Prosecutor Williams has come to their assistance in the way of a speedy end. He refuses to permit lagging methods of killing the turkeys.

As a result, E. C. Santee and George Adams, proprietors of a poultry store at No. 1130 West Pico boulevard, were arrested and will be arraigned in Police Court today on a charge of cruelty to animals. The City Prosecutor objected to the method of execution used by the poultry dressers.

The complaint recites the men merely impaled the throat of the turkey with a sharp blade, and then proceeded to disfigure the feathers while the turkey was still alive.

"The brain must be destroyed," said the City Prosecutor. "By such a method as these men employed, the last moments of the turkey are spent in extreme pain. Such a method shall not be permitted. The dressers of turkeys must either sever the head or at least destroy the brain by some method so that no pain will attend the picking process."

It will be the first time such an issue has ever been raised in the Police Court.

MILLION-DOLLAR DEAL IN IMPERIAL VALLEY.

Balfour-Guthrie Company Lease with Option to Purchase Ten Thousand Acres Near Calipatria from Farm Lands Association—Great Development to be Begun at Once on this Immense Fertile Tract by Great Firm.

TEN THOUSAND acres of rich land adjacent to Calipatria, was leased with option to purchase yesterday by the Balfour-Guthrie Company, one of the wealthiest and most prominent ship-owning commercial and real estate concerns in the West.

This is the largest deal for immediate improvement of land ever made in the Imperial Valley and in magnitude is second only to the deal whereby the Imperial Valley Farm Lands Association secured 47,000 acres in the north end of the valley from the Southern Pacific two years ago.

The tract comprises some of the richest lands in the valley and is especially adapted to cotton growing. The Balfour-Guthrie company will proceed at once to develop. Within two weeks it will have 400 mules at work leveling the land preparatory to planting cotton. The company will erect a cottonseed oil mill and a cotton gin at Calipatria.

Cotton growing in the Imperial Valley long since passed the experimental stage. Both the long and short staple varieties are produced in far heavier yield per acre than in the Southern States, and the long staple varieties in particular have been proved to be a profitable crop. While cotton is raised in all portions of the valley, Calipatria has been the chief cotton center, both on account of its contiguous cotton lands on the American side and the tributary Mexican lands.

The soil and other conditions in the north end, particularly in the vicinity of Calipatria, have been pronounced by experts to be equal to or better than any other for cotton growing, and many acres are already in crop there. With the addition of the 10,000 acres of the Balfour-Guthrie Company the north end of the valley will be a strong rival of Calexico as the cotton capital of the valley.

Walker Bros. have contracted with the Balfour-Guthrie Company to level, grade and put in condition for planting 5000 acres of the tract and Vail & Coates, a San Francisco firm, will improve the other 5000 acres of the tract. Carl F. Schader, the founder and father of Calipatria, represented the Imperial Valley Farm Lands Association in making the lease and option to the Balfour-Guthrie Company.

REGARDS CONTINENTAL ARMY PLAN AS DREAM.

President's Project for Land Defense Impracticable, Declares Brig.-Gen. Reeve, and Regrets General Staff's Programme was Disregarded—Strong Regular Army and Encouragement of National Guard Needed.

THE continental army plan of President Wilson may meet with the approval of the lawyers, doctors and newspapermen who helped frame it, but it is not approved by army and navy men and other students of military affairs, declared Brig.-Gen. Charles McC. Reeve of Minneapolis, who arrived here yesterday, en route to his summer home at Coronado. He is staying two days at Santa Monica.

Gen. Reeve has been a close observer of military affairs more than thirty years. He saw active service in the Philippines and was promoted from the rank of colonel to brigadier-general of volunteers. Since the Spanish War he has been deeply interested in the National Guard, and has held a brigadier-general's commission in that organization.

"The question of preparedness," said Gen. Reeve, "is the most important national issue that has come before the country since the Civil War. Being of strong Democratic tendencies I presume I might be expected to support President Wilson in his plan to organize a continental army, but the plan is absolutely impracticable, and I am unalterably opposed to it. President Wilson was undoubtedly inspired by a desire to do something toward preparedness when he suggested a preference for the continental army instead of the scheme proposed by the General Staff of the army, but he certainly was badly advised. If one were ill he would call in a doctor; if he were in legal difficulties he would call in a lawyer, and why, then, not take the advice of an expert on military affairs when the great question of national preparedness comes before us?"

"The General Staff has recommended a standing army of from 200,000 to 250,000 men and a modification of the laws so that the National Guard could

HARBOR DISPUTE SMALL CALIBER.

DEVELOPS INTO MERE SPAT OF LABOR-UNION GANG.

Investigation of harbor affairs, which both sides to the controversy are attempting to get before the grand jury, developed yesterday into a petty labor-union war between the walking delegates in the harbor district and the bosses of the Central Labor Council.

The harbor bosses are attempting to grab control of the labor market on harbor work, but the Central Labor Council, headed by such patriotic "citizens and taxpayers" as A. J. Mooney, E. J. Hendricks, "Red" Gore, "Red" Fennessy and others, want the right not only to supply all harbor work with union-card men, but to dictate appointments, rules and regulations, as well.

E. H. Sleeper, who is an incident in the harbor fight by reason of the fact that his dismissal for cause from the service precipitated the battle that is now on, will file a long list of charges with the District Attorney today, through his own attorney, Arthur L. Veitch.

President Woodman of the Harbor Commission announced last night that charges against Sleeper and others will be placed in the hands of the District Attorney today. Both sides worked far into the night to prepare the charges and submit evidence. Attorney Veitch declared last night that the charges of Sleeper and others are not intended to show criminal intent on the part of any member of the Harbor Commission or of the harbor district. He said, "The charges are along the line of extravagance, waste, mismanagement and inefficiency in the administration of harbor affairs."

"While we have about fifty-eight charges against the harbor department," said the attorney, "there are only eight or nine phases which we expose. We will hand a resume of the entire affair to Deputy District Attorney Woolwine Wednesday."

After a conference with Deputy Woolwine, it may be decided to refer the entire matter to the Criminal Complaints Committee of the grand jury. Although there is no accusation of criminal action against any one of those accused of wrongdoing in the harbor affairs, it is declared by all sides that the investigation is with in the province of the grand jury because of the reflection upon public officials.

President Woodman takes the position that his charges against some of those who have been active in stirring up the harbor rumpus are by no means in the nature of retaliation. He has gathered a great deal of evidence to support the position he took when he discharged Sleeper from the harbor department and his superintendency of construction. This, he said, will be used not only in the Council and grand jury investigation, but before the Civil Service Commission, as well.

HAS ONLY A FIG LEAF.

Albert Z. Mercede, jeweler doing business at Orange, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. He schedules his debts at $3800.06, and not a cent of the assets, in the way of money, stock or clothing. According to the petition, the bankrupt is running around in Orange in a fig-leaf attire, for under the law he is compelled to make a return of his wearing apparel, even though it is exempt under the bankruptcy statutes.

Margaret Jarman
Mezzo-Soprano and Noted Operatic Star.

Margaret Jarman, well known locally as the principal mezzo-soprano with the National Grand Opera Company, last season, has opened a studio in the Blanchard Building, this city, Suite No. 344.

Miss Jarman has been very successful during her operatic career, both here and in Europe. The best critics of two continents have praised her work.

She is an American by birth and received her musical education abroad. The Chickering is Miss Jarman's favorite piano and is used exclusively in her studio. In a recent letter she made the following statement, which we are glad to reproduce:

Gentlemen:—

I am very much interested in the Chickering piano and greatly admire the beautiful tone and easy action of this famous instrument.

I prefer the Chickering to any piano that I have ever used during my professional work in America or in Europe.

Cordially yours,
Margaret Jarman

Lloyd E. Munger, Arrested with Robert Kearney in San Diego for stealing an auto. They are alleged to have stolen twenty-five automobiles within the past three months, and to have used an ingenious plan for avoiding identification of the cars.

Brakes On CAPTURE OF TWO AUTO THIEVES.

WILL ARRIVE TODAY WITH FIVE RECOVERED CARS.

Arrest Due to Activities of Bureau of Automobile Club in Considered Most Important—Men Alleged to Have Taken Twenty-five Machines in Three Months.

Late this afternoon a procession of five automobiles will roll into Los Angeles from San Diego. Every one of these five autos has been a stolen car, and each has gone through the vicissitudes of license-number changing and the restamping of factory numbers on the parts.

In one of these cars, in charge of officers, will ride two men who are considered the most important captures since the spirited campaign against auto thieves was taken up a year ago. They are Robert Kearney and Lloyd Munger, who are alleged to have been carrying on one of the diabolical schemes for auto stealing yet evolved. They are declared to have stolen twenty-five cars, mostly Fords, within the last three months.

The capture was made through the activities of the automobile theft bureau operated and maintained by the Automobile Club of Southern California. This bureau was established last January and through its work 100 stolen cars have been recovered.
Standish L. Mitchell is the manager and John W. Powell is in charge of the detective work.

Messrs. Mitchell and Powell have been watching the movements of Kearney and Munger for the past three months. They heard last week that the men planned a trip to San Diego on Saturday, and asked the San Diego officers to be on the watch for them and place them under arrest when they arrived in that city.

This programme was carried out.
When the men arrived in the southern city they were found to be riding in a car that is the property of R. H.
Gosson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at Long Beach. This car had been stolen from Long Beach on the night of November 19.

Detectives Hickok and Irving went to San Diego and confronted the two men with evidence in hand. Messrs.
Mitchell and Powell stated yesterday that the men confessed to the theft of this and four other cars, that were then in San Diego, and that these cars were gathered up and will be brought back to Los Angeles today.

Mr. Mitchell stated that the two men are directly implicated in the theft of twenty other cars, and that these have been sold or traded in San Diego, San Jose and San Francisco.

The plan of the two men, according to the officers of the automobile theft bureau, was simple, but effective. A hardware store has been found here where the men had purchased a complete outfit of dies for sinking new numbers on auto parts after the old numbers had been shaved off.

They state that the plan of these men was to go first to the State bureau, before a car was stolen, register it under some fictitious name, and take out an auto number. Then the car desired would be selected; the men would place their outfit in it, drive away to some isolated spot, and there shave off the original numbers of the parts, and sink new numbers into the metal, while the old license number was replaced with the one just purchased.

Then the car was ready for the market. Kearney and Munger, it is alleged, maintained an office in the Santa Rita Hotel in San Diego, and that there most of their deals were made and the bills of sale were signed.

Munger has been in trouble over cars before. He has been under arrest in San Francisco and in San Jose on the charge of stealing autos, said Mr. Powell, but the evidence was not sufficient for conviction and he was released. He was arrested in Los Angeles in March, 1915, on the charge of grand larceny, stealing an auto, but received only a fine of $75 or twenty days' imprisonment.

CHURCH WORKER PASSES ON.

Funeral Services Today for Widow of Founder of Three Houses of Worship Here.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock over the remains of Mrs. Sarah L. Frances Hughes, who died Monday night at her residence, No. 2537 South Olive street.
The services will be at the house, and interment will be at Evergreen Centery. Death came to Mrs. Hughes after an illness of more than five years. She was 81 years old and leaves four daughters, seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mrs. Hughes was the widow of Rev. David Hughes, founder of the Park, Welsh Presbyterian and Bethesda churches in this city, who died December 28, 1903. She was the mother of the late John P. Hughes, for many years a prominent business man of Los Angeles.

For nearly thirty years Mrs. Hughes has been an active church worker in this city. She came to California with her husband in 1882 and they resided in the northern part of the State until 1888, when they moved to Los Angeles.

to Sylvia, Mrs. Hammill's daughter.
No street address was given.

FAREWELL NOTE.
The note reads:
"You'll forgive mother, won't you?
I told the truth, honey, but I'm too much of a coward to face the public. I'm southern and proud, but I must tell the truth. You know how I have been harmed by Mrs. K. simply because she wants revenge as she thinks I wanted Charlie. You know better, dear. I lived and breathed for White only. He is a thief and mur-derer and he thought to rid himself of me. I am so tired of all I feel I can't make things much worse if I just pass on.
"I am not afraid, dear, and some of these days we will be together. Be a good girl as you have always been.
God will not judge my act but my motives."
"I'm distracted in the eyes of the people and my staying on a little longer, honey, will only lengthen my misery and disgrace you further. Write to your brother and tell him how dearly mother loves him."

"I was denied the chance to live by a bunch of crooks, Mrs. K. included.
Mrs. C. will tell you about it really.
The old folks must be protected."
"Good-by, my dear; I feel I'll be happier and I hope God shall be watch over my girl. You know how so bad—only a step to another life.
Perhaps this act has made mine a little harder, but I'll work it out now I'm through with White."
"Your mother loves you and it seems cowardly to leave you, but, dear, I'm in your way and it's such a little time and we'll be together. With many kisses. Your own mother."

Mrs. Hammill refused to make any statement after receiving treatment at the hospital and being told she would not die. According to Dr. Miller, sometime today Mrs. Hammill will be able to leave the hospital and will suffer no ill effects from the drug.

Celebration Dinner.
While she lay in the Receiving Hospital last night and the doctors fought for her life, White, according to his attorney, was attending a dinner given in his honor by friends. He could not be located and no statement was made by him. Attorney Shedd, who handled Mr. White's case, declared last night when notified by the police of Mrs. Hammill's attempted suicide that it was the last link needed to prove White not guilty.

Detective Felt, who was the first to get Mrs. Hammill's statement in regard to White, and who investigated the case and took the evidence before the grand jury, and who also arrested White, declared his part in the case is closed. He said that after hearing Mrs. Hammill's statement there was nothing for him to do but arrest White, and place the case in the hands of the grand jury.

White was released from the City Jail yesterday afternoon by order of Deputy District Attorney Woolwine, who declared, "It was impossible to obtain any substantial corroboration of the charges against White brought by Mrs. Hammill."

TO SEEK CANDIDATE.

Eleventh District Republicans Who Dislike Aspirations of State Senator Will Meet Next Month.

Many Republicans of the Eleventh Congress District, who do not look with favor upon the Congressional aspirations of one State Senator Lyman M. King, have called a meeting for December 8 at Riverside to decide upon the most available timber in the district.

A call had been issued by Dr. David Gochenauer, Republican county chairman at San Diego, urging each county committee in the Eleventh District to send three delegates to the district conference. The meeting will be held at the Glenwood Mission Inn.

Congressman Kettner has announced he will not seek re-election.
The belief is that he aspires to the United States Senatorship. It is for the purpose of selecting a strong man to run the Republican ticket that the Riverside meeting has been called.

Friends of Senator King are expected to go into the conference with the view of securing his nomination.

fortunate men, women and children who depend upon others for their taste of luxury. The commission's statement says:

"An appeal has been issued by the one or more poor, less fortunate than themselves and to extend comfort and cheer with it.

"Realizing the noble humanitarian-

DISCUSSING CHARTER.

Campaign of Education Started Before Improvement Association—Address at Vernon.

At the suggestion of the Board of Freeholders a campaign of education has been started before the various improvement associations, for the purpose of discussing the proposed new city charter.

In an address before a gathering in the Vernon school, Jesse D. Burks, director of the Municipal Efficiency Commission, last night said that he estimated that were the provisions of the new charter put fully in operation they would be worth $1,000,000 a year to the city.

He showed how the new instrument retains the features of a small Council, few elective officers and effective means for popular control, and how many defects have been eliminated.

The power of the Mayor is increased, allowing him to appoint all heads of departments; his salary is increased, and he and the Controller and Council president become a committee of estimate to prepare the annual budget and the financial programme of the city. The authority of the Council is also strengthened in various directions, declared this speaker, and he urged the advantages of the proposed advisory board, to be composed of all heads of departments, to confer with the Mayor regularly.

Big U. S. C.-California Game Causing Lots of Excitement.

SPEED IS TO FEATURE GAME.

Trojans Like Fast Turf in Big Game.

Big Rally Held by Local Students.

California Alumni to Feed this Evening.

When U.S.C. and California engage in the spectacular sport of football tomorrow at Washington Park the keynote of the mingling will be "speed."

The Trojans worked out at the park yesterday afternoon and were highly excited over playing on the speedy turf. They feel that the faster the ground the better their chances will be of taking their second victory over the Bears.

NEW TEAM.

In a large measure the Trojans feel that they are to meet a strange team. They feel that the team which they licked 28 to 10 earlier in the season is a totally different aggregation from the bunch they will face Saturday.

Six weeks ago the Bears had never faced a team of seasoned veterans and, while they knew the theory of football, they did not know how to put these principles into practice.

HELPED THEM.

Bitter defeat at the hands of U.S.C. and Washington have injected into the California team a knowledge of the game which years of study could not give. They will come south as a team of veteran players, and if they lose it will not be a matter of inexperience, but can be blamed on U.S.C.'s better team.

The Trojans are banking on wide-open play to defeat the northerners, as one minute of this stuff can undo twenty minutes of hard labor at line bucking, with its resultant exhaustion.

MAY WORK.

California, with all her experience gained in the two big games with Washington, has had little opportunity to perfect a defense for the wide-open forward passing game of the Trojans. It may be that the Bears have an adequate defense. They will need it.

There is not much likelihood of any eleven-hour changes in the Trojan line-up. The only possibility is that Leo Livernash may start the game at right end in place of Jones, the punner.

HEAVY WORK.

The Trojan line has been coached to withstand the heavy bucking of the Bears. A large party by the name of Lockhart, who is playing guard for California, is said to be one of the best linemen on the Coast, and the Bears and Gold rely upon him to open up holes for the backfield.

In preparation for the game the Trojans held a big rally last night on the bleachers. Five yell leaders held forth at some length and various young men talked loud on the subject of the big game.

Methodist institution is at high pitch.

BIG FEED.

The local alumni association of the University of California will tender a banquet at the Los Angeles Athletic Club this evening to the visiting members of the university alumni who will arrive this morning.

Preparations are being made by the special committee and L. J. Mums, president of the Los Angeles Alumni Association, to make the affair one to be remembered. The banquet and entertainment will be held on a large scale, and will be an annual affair to mark the celebration of the big game.

COMMITTEE.

The members of the special committee are: Shirley E. Meserve, chairman; Walter K. Tuller, Cursey E. Newlin, Judge Frank G. Flanagan, Samuel Hawkins, Willis H. Smith, M. E. Newman, Joseph Loebe, Otto Wolfbein, Harry Campbell, T. E. Crane and Paul Peabody.

The team and the twenty-piece university band leave today on the Harvard and will arrive tomorrow.

The officials for the big game will be: Referee, Klenholtz; umpire, Henry Field; line judge, and head line judge, Helly. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

TURKISH CHAMP TO MEET PAPPAS.

YOUNG MAHMOUD CLAIMS HE IS CONSTANTINOPLE'S BEST WRESTLER.

Our Pappas and Young Mahmoud will furnish the excitement of the wrestling programme at the Pasadena Athletic Club Friday evening. Young Mahmoud claims to be the middleweight champion wrestler of the distant town of Constantinople and came here from St. Louis several weeks ago.

NEW WAY TO SETTLE IT.

Pending the decision reached by the schools of the Citrus Belt League of the legality of several of Pomona High's games, a tentative plan for settling the football championship of Southern California has been advanced to E. W. Oliver of the Athletic Council.

The idea, in short, is to have Pasadena, Pomona and Whittier meet at Washington Park on the afternoon of December 3 or 4. The teams will be numbered A, B and C. A will play B for a half, then B will play C and A will play C for the same length of time. The title goes to the team scoring the most points.

However, if several of Pomona's games are declared forfeited because of the use of Wendell Baker in them, the complexion of things will be considerably changed.

STANDS STRONG FOR SCHAEFFER.

New Publication Blames the "Daily Californian."

Claims that Editor has it in for the Coach.

News of Big Rally was not Printed, is Charge.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—A glaring red cover, the pristine beauty of which is enhanced by the imprint "Expose" in bold black letters an inch high across the page, will herald the appearance of "Brass Tacks" on the campus tomorrow morning. And the contents promise to cause more emotion than even the cover.

FOR SCHAEFFER.

The editor, Joseph Wadsworth, a senior from Pasadena, dedicates the issue to "a square deal." He answers critics of Coach Schaeffer, who resigned after the Washington-California game, in which California was defeated by a 17 to 0 score, and accuses Philip Conroy, editor of The Daily Californian, with a desire to oust Schaeffer; and the Executive Committee of the Associated Students with approaching the "rotter" in accepting the coach's resignation.

Excerpts from the articles follow: "Since our games with Washington much commotion has been made both on and off the campus, but very little has been told of why California made such an excellent showing in last Saturday's battle. No one has made any attempt to tell why these things have not been told or why California has been the butt of so many attacks at the hands of the Bay City papers. No one has ventured to say why The Californian, which should have been behind California's team from start to finish, has taken its present attitude and even endeavored to withhold the facts."

REDUCED.

"The Daily Californian was with the team and apparently with the coach until they lost. Then the editor allowed ridicule to creep into his news items such as one which appeared in the paper Wednesday morning and which was headed 'Infamous Inmates Challenge Varsity.' The Californian also took great pains to show the difference between California's coaching methods and those of Washington. An editorial appeared in which the editor made a vain attempt to hide his feelings, which were nevertheless very evident. That editorial dwelt on the fact that Schaeffer was not the man for the job, that he did not have the right coaching methods, and that a new man, perhaps one from the East, was the only solution of the problem."

THE RALLY.

Referring to the rally which was given the team on the return from Seattle, Wadsworth says: "The rally rally and after the speeches had been made, the 2-3 clamored for Schaeffer. They wanted to see and hear him."

In spite of all these things The Californian said nothing of Jimmie Schaeffer last morning—oh, we almost forgot to mention that the Californian is said to be a few days on business and did not return with the team.

THE REASON.

"The reason for this attempt by The Californian to stifle public opinion is that it is against the policy of The Daily Californian to retain Jimmie Schaeffer as coach. Having this policy, they will not, therefore, print anything that might lead to a movement in that direction. No matter what might be the result of the rally, no matter what it might cause the alumni to believe, none of these things matter—it is against the policy of The Californian to retain Jimmie Schaeffer and therefore they must not give him credit for the work he has done, they must print none of the good things he has accomplished."

EDITORIALS.

Several articles which refer to favorable outside press comment on the game and to "anti-Stroud" denunciations have appeared on the campus are followed in the editorial column by:

"In the first place, it was verging on the rotten for the Executive Committee to accept Schaeffer's resignation the same moment it was tendered. Anyone who has been in touch with student affairs here in the last ten years will know that it is only courtesy to lay such a resignation on the table, until the next meeting at least. Yet the committee did not know what the majority of student sentiment was, under no pretense from any need of haste in the matter, took it upon themselves virtually to discharge the man without ado. Such a precipitate and discourteous act is without parallel in the history of our student government."

STAFF INSTRUCTED.

"We wish to make it plain right here that we are in no wise advocating a reappointment of Schaeffer. In fact, we consider such a move too remote a possibility to take into account at all. But this cannot blind us to the fact that to kick a man down stairs after he has gone out the door of his own volition is a very small policy indeed. We know, of course, that it was the motive to out Jimmie Schaeffer as a coach; that man on the staff were instructed to cut out news favorable to him; that the account of the Monday night rally was hopelessly garbled and the conveyance of so much of the spirit untrue."

There is a growing feeling of resentment which will break out in the near future—it expresses a wholly proper and sportsmanlike demand for a square deal for a local Californian."

TO GO SOUTH.

Final practice in the rain this afternoon concluded the work of the California team preparatory to the U.S.C. game on Thanksgiving. The squad of twenty-eight players and the numerous staff members will leave for the Harvard game tomorrow on the Harvard. Many students living in the south will avail themselves of the rates to make the trip with the band.

PASADENA IS PEEVED AT LONG BEACH HIGH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, Nov. 23.—Pasadena will probably ostracize Long Beach hereafter, so far as football games are concerned, because a number of the beach boys visited the Crown City the night before last and cut their school letters, "L. B." in fifteen foot characters on the local high school campus. The letters were kaleidoscoped a violent green and gold combination and, as a result, it will be necessary to read a considerable portion of the lawn.

When the matter was brought up at the meeting of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon President Frank May declared a resolution should be passed against scheduling any more football games with Long Beach after the contest which is set for Thursday afternoon. Mrs. A. Ruth Weatherbee said she understood there was a sentiment at the High School that the school should be permitted to make the move.

The matter may, perhaps, be amicably settled by a committee from the Long Beach High School meeting a similar committee from the Pasadena school. Principal Jerome O. Cross has been in communication with Principal Burcham of Long Beach, and received word yesterday that a student committee would be named to discuss the matter. Principal Burcham said he believed the act could be ascribed to a few over-substant students and that the student body should not be held responsible.

REDLANDS HOPES TO BE WINNER.

BAPTISTS BELIEVE THEY HAVE A CHANCE TO PUT IT OVER INDIANS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, Nov. 23.—The football fans of this city are busy with the question of the chances of the university football team to defeat the Sherman Indians in the big football game of the valley for Thanksgiving. The showing made by the Baptists against Throop on Saturday has sent the stock of the team up and there is a growing belief that the team can win from Sherman.

The Indians are playing fast ball this year and are getting better all the time. The two teams are about even in the matter of weight. The university is in the best shape it has been since the season started, Hill being the only man out of the game. Cunningham is working his men hard

SIX YEARS OF LITIGATION.

Imperial Water-system Claims Settled.

Home Sale Next Step in Procedure.

Get System and Cash Exchange for Bonds.

Agreement to settle all the claims against the Imperial Irrigation Company was made yesterday in San Francisco at a conference between representatives of the Imperial Irrigation Company and the Southern Pacific Company. The settlement, when made, will end litigation which has been going on for six years and will result in throwing the system into the custody of the courts and a sale of the property.

The agreement, according to the Imperial Irrigation Company, will result in the sale of the property against which there are claims aggregating $4,000,000, and the exchange of the bonds for cash in the amount of $2,000,000.

The Southern Pacific Company will pay off all creditors and will then take possession of the property. The sale of the property will be made by the Imperial Irrigation Company, and the proceeds will be used to pay off the bonds.

The difference between the price at which the property was sold and the amount of the bonds is to be paid by the Imperial Irrigation Company. The sale of the property is to be made by the Imperial Irrigation Company, and the proceeds will be used to pay off the bonds.

Mrs. Minnie Halliday, who has been mysteriously missing from her mother's home since the last day of last month.

TEARFUL MOTHER SEEKS DAUGHTER.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS YOUNG WOMAN?—SHE'S MISSING FOR TWENTY-FOUR DAYS.

Where is Miss Minnie Ruth Halliday? Has she met with foul play, or is she being detained against her will by some one who enticed her from her home?

The police department has been appealed to, and a further appeal will be made to the Sheriff's office today to take up the search for this young woman.

Mrs. M. A. Buchanan, whose daughter has so mysteriously dropped out of sight, is almost prostrated with worry over the possible fate of the girl.

Minnie Ruth Halliday, who was married when she was 18 years old to Fred G. Halliday, has not been living with her husband for five years, but made her home with her mother at No. 4408 Esmeralda street, in Rose Hill.

Recently she has been in quite poor health, and kept rather closely at home.

On the afternoon of October 26, she told her mother that she was going out to visit a friend and might be back at 6 o'clock, but if she was not home by that time, it should be understood that she was to stay overnight at the friend's house.

That was the last seen or heard of the young woman. She took with her nothing but the clothes she wore, not even taking a purse, and having only cash for the trip.

When she left home, Mrs. Halliday wore a brown skirt, a cream-colored lace waist, a three-quarter light brown coat with a belt, and a small brown hat.

Mrs. Buchanan thinks that possibly her daughter left with the idea of trying to find and rejoin her husband. He was last heard of here as working in the oil fields at Lost Hills.

Mrs. Buchanan can be reached by telephone, East 2870, and would thankfully receive information about her missing daughter.

REACH FOR THE BIRD IN HAND.

CREDITORS HALT WORK ON NEW FRENO NORMAL SCHOOL.

Local Contractor's Hands are Tied at Critical Moment by Gershabe on His Funds from State and may be Forced to Give up the Job. Asks Another Chance.

A dozen creditors gathered about 6 o'clock yesterday in the offices of Attorney G. C. Dugan, endeavoring to find out just how much money is coming to them now that the Winget Construction Company of Los Angeles has suspended work on the new State Normal School in Fresno. Because of the lateness of the hour, very little was accomplished, and the meeting was adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon. At this meeting today it will be decided how $10,000 of assets will be apportioned to cover $10,000 worth of debts.

Last February the Winget Construction Company accepted the contract to erect the proposed State Normal School in Fresno. Fifty per cent of the material was obtained in Los Angeles and the remainder purchased by contract in Fresno and San Francisco. The contract price of the school was $248,000.

The details of the contract caused Mr. Winget some annoyance, as payments by the State came in slowly, while his payments to companies for materials went out rapidly. However, at the time he figured his bank account would weather the storm.

All went well until a week ago. Then the Winget bank account commenced to narrow perceptibly. It was a bad spot along the road. About this time two of the largest creditors, one of Fresno and the second of this city, became aware of the situation, and prepared to file stop notices. The minute the State placed $10,000 to the credit of the construction company, these stop notices, or legal gamblers, were filed successfully tying up the money. This action assured the two creditors of their money, but it stopped the construction of the school.

According to Mr. Winget, if these notices had not been filed he would have pulled through and completed his contract on time. The school is said to be 75 per cent completed now.

There is about $50,000 worth of debts against the company, to meet which the creditors have $10,000 tied up. Mr. Winget declared yesterday he would have borrowed money to smooth over the rough spots, thus saving everybody. The creditors declared that $10,000 in hand is worth more than prospects.

Mr. Winget yesterday requested that the stop notices be withdrawn and he be given another chance to finish. The creditors will think this over and will give a decision this afternoon. If their decision is unfavorable to Mr. Winget, the contract will either be turned over to some other company or the school will remain as it is.

The general is visiting his brother-in-law, James W. Lawrence, an attorney of No. 317 Fourth street, Santa Monica, and will go to San Diego tomorrow.

Gen. Reeve praised former President Taft for the stand the latter took for preparedness during his administration. His general said many persons misunderstood the purposes of the Security League. It is not, he said, an organization which is trying to get the country into war, but it is trying to mould public opinion in order to get Congress to have the nation so prepared that any other power will think twice before picking a quarrel with the United States. He expressed the opinion that the United States may have to defend itself at the end of the present European war.

DOUBLE RESULTS BY ONE ARREST.

MAN JAILED ON DRUG CHARGE RECOGNIZED AS CHECK CASE SUSPECT.

James Dellarocco, 30 years old, an Italian barber arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Burgess and Ingram on a charge of violating the State drug act, was recognized by the police last night as the man wanted for forging travelers' checks belonging to George Glover, president of a New Orleans bank. An additional charge of forgery was placed against Dellarocco. The checks were alleged to have been stolen from Mr. Glover in Salt Lake, October 13.

Pearl Tutta, 19 years old, who declares she is Dellarocco's wife, also was arrested at the San Julian-street address and is detained as a witness. Suffering from the effects of narcotics last night, she was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

Dellarocco, according to Detectives McMahon and Cherry, who have sought him several weeks on the forged checks, recently deposited in the All Day and Night Bank three of the nine $100 checks alleged to have been stolen from the New Orleans bank.

A bank book in Dellarocco's possession last night, shows he deposited the checks to his credit October 21, 22 and November 2. There was a balance in the bank yesterday of only fifty cents.

The forged charge was made by P. F. LaRosa, general agent for the American Express Company. According to the police, Dellarocco and the girl who says she is his wife, are members of a gang in Southern California that has sold quantities of cocaine and other drugs.

WOULD ABOLISH DEBT.

Attorney Tells Credit Men Time is Coming When All Business will be Conducted on a Cash Basis.

Predicting a time when "credit" will be a thing of the past, and all business will be done on a cash basis, Delphin M. Delmas, one of the most prominent attorneys of the country, addressed the members of the Credit Men's Association last night at the banquet held by the body at the Jonathan Club. The address made by Mr. Delmas came following several five-minute talks by some of the association members. In explaining his subject, "Debt," Mr. Delmas warned his listeners he would talk from the viewpoint of the debtor, and not the creditor's viewpoint that had already been explained by the previous speakers.

"Many of the famous men of our country have vacated us against all kinds of debt," Mr. Delmas said. "The gentlemen who have preceded me in speaking, have told you of the trials and tribulations of the creditor. These talks have confirmed a belief I have long held that we will some time arrive at the age when there is no credit."

"To my mind, borrowing is worse than stealing. And the credit plan is built on borrowing. The borrower is the slave of the lender."

Other speakers were W. W. Woods, vice-president of the Citizens National Bank; F. A. Barnes, credit manager of Barker Bros., and J. D. Meehan, credit manager of Barker Bros. F. B. McCommas was chairman of the evening.

A Few "Shop-Early" Suggestions.

Appliances sold on merit only.

Electric radiators are worth many times their cost, as a convenience and safeguard to health. They will damp down the cold waves that drift from the bedroom and in general take the place of the old-fashioned portable heaters. They are a great boon in the sick room or nursery because of their hygienic, safe and clean operation.

"Universal" Toasters stand for the best word in convenience, uniform results and economy of operation. They toast bread evenly right at the table as it is needed. The spring bread rack holds the slice in exactly the right position to obtain the proper results. No danger of burnt fingers.

One of the most essential things connected with the nursery is the ready warming of milk. To be easily able to bring the milk to the proper temperature is a feature to be much appreciated. The heater is equipped with two lids, one when heating the milk bottle and the other when heating water.

"Lionel Electric Toys" and trains of which we carry the best and most complete stock in the city, are this year being sold by us at prices heretofore unheard of and prices that cannot be equaled in this city. Long experience has taught us that cheap and poorly constructed electric toys are expensive at any price. We carry only the best goods of this character that the market affords.
